Caspian® fan convectors - providing heating comfort

Caspian fan convectors are particularly well suited to all kinds of commercial applications, from schools and churches to office developments, with the ability to rapidly heat large areas quickly with much greater efficiency than other heat emitters.

Available with Smart controls integrating the most commonly sought control features into a single unit. From basic room temperature control to a range of time controlling features. Can be used as standalone units or with multiple units integrated, and controlled by app. An especially useful feature when managing building services remotely.

- Compatible with most types of wet central heating systems, functioning equally efficiently with conventional boilers, biomass technology or heat pumps
- New 750mm version available
- LST versions available
- 5 year warranty as standard
- Available with Smart control to further improve efficiency and flexibility, with remote monitoring and control via an app
- Available with Anti-bacterial paint finish
- Designed and manufactured in UK for short lead times

Why Choose Smith's?

When it comes to energy-efficient, adaptable heating and cooling, the Smith's range offers solutions you can rely on.

Since 1991, Smith's EP UK has been designing and manufacturing a wide range of commercial and domestic heating and cooling products from our UK factory. As part of the Swan Group — a global, family-owned business based in the US — we combine international expertise with a strong local presence. We work closely with architects, consultants, contractors and installers to deliver high-quality products through our established stockist network, all supported by industry-leading warranties and outstanding technical and aftercare service.

Innovation drives everything we do. From developing new products to creating bespoke heating and cooling solutions, we are focused on meeting the needs of a fast-moving and demanding market across the UK, Northern Europe and the US. We pride ourselves on being flexible and collaborative, while never compromising on the quality, performance and care that go into every Smith's product.

As a progressive and growing business, we are continually building partnerships with like- minded manufacturers across Europe. These collaborations allow us to expand our offering and provide complementary heating and cooling solutions in areas where our partners specialise, ensuring our customers always have access to the most effective and reliable technologies.

Our latest price list highlights our core commercial and domestic ranges, but it's only part of the story. We're always ready to work with clients at any stage of the construction process, collaborating closely to develop tailored solutions for every requirement. Above all, we take pride in delivering results that not only meet expectations but exceed them — helping our customers return to Smith's time and time again with confidence.

EasiLink connector for Space Saver Hydronic Plinth Heaters

Space Saver Hydronic Plinth Heaters have been improved with an EasiLink connector. Similar to a 'kettle' type socket this enables easier installation.

Once the electric lead has been wired into a fused 3A spur by a qualified electrician the Space Saver hydronic plinth heater with EasiLink is easily connected to the power supply by plugging the lead into the socket on the Space Saver by a homeowner, plumber or heating engineer.

This will be of great benefit to housebuilders and other trades where the lead can be pre-wired before the installation of the Space Saver, avoiding potential damage.

Importantly there are NO product code changes from the existing product codes. The packaging also remains the same.

With this update Space Saver hydronic plinth heaters can be enhanced with improved controls. For further details see below:

EasiLink Controllers for Space Saver Hydronic Plinth Heaters

The upgraded Space Saver hydronic plinth heater with EasiLink connector can be combined with an EasiLink controller enabling much greater control over the heater in the room being heated by the Space Saver.

Local control of the heating is achieved by one of two controllers:

SLVTB A simple manual controller with on off and temperature adjustment. The unit is battery powered and wall-mounted for easy installation into a standard sized electrical back box.

Hand-held controller A battery powered, wireless hand-held controller that can be used in manual mode or can be independently programmable.

EasiLink kit contents

The EasiLink kit contains the following items:

- One EasiLink receiver
- Choice of an SLVTB or Hand-held controller
- Fitting Instructions

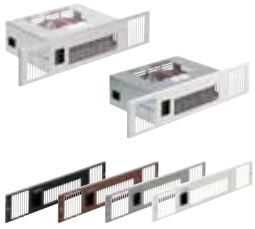

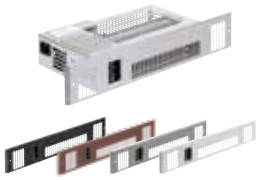

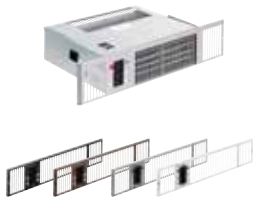

Space Saver hydronic plinth heaters with an EasiLink connector can be upgraded with the controllers at a later date.

The EasiLink controllers can only work with the new updated Space Saver hydronic plinth heaters which include the EasiLink connector.
